A Community Need
Donated Baked Goods

We have been asked, as a church family, to donate baked goods for a silent auction at a Benefit for the Nick Fulweiler family, Saturday, June 8 at the Event Center at Pine City Fairgrounds from 4:00-9:00 p.m.. If you can donate some baked goods, just send an email to the church office at pinecityefree@gmail.com

Here is the story... At the end of January, Nick Fulweiler went to urgent care and was diagnosed with possible influenza and bronchitis, and sent home with medication. By the next day, at home, Nick collapsed, and their 14-year-old son called an ambulance. The ambulance brought Nick to the Fairview Lakes Medical Center in Wyoming. Nick continued to decline. On Feb. 2, he was taken to intensive care and put on a respirator because he was drowning from the fluid in his lungs. That evening they transferred Nick to the Hennepin County Medical Center in Minneapolis.

Nick tested positive for Influenza A. Doctors explained to Tori (Nick's wife) that Nick had developed severe pneumonia as a result of the flu, which then led to severe acute respiratory distress syndrome and sepsis – a condition where the immune system begins to turn against itself. Nick was put into a medically-induced coma, placed on a respirator and an Extracorporeal Membrane Oxygenation (ECMO) machine, which pumps a patient’s blood outside the body and gets the oxygen into their blood that their lungs cannot. “They put two tubes into his neck,” Tori said. “It ran around his head. It took the blood all out of his body, oxygenated the blood and put it back in. And part of that process was so that his lungs didn’t have to do one single thing.

Nick remained in that medically-induced coma for the next three weeks. It was not until Feb. 22 that the family was told that Nick was going to survive. In March, he was finally able to leave the hospital and return home with his family. But besides the aftereffects of his illness, it will take months to recover from spending so much time in a medical coma. “He had to re-learn how to walk, how to feed himself after just three weeks in a coma,” Tori explained. Nick is now doing regular physical and occupational therapy in Pine City, and hoping to go back to work as soon as he can. So is Tori, who was given time off from working as a paraprofessional in the Hinckley Elementary School. We’re now into hundreds of thousands of dollars in medical bills and it still isn’t over.”

Nick’s family and friends are planning a benefit on June 8 at the Pine County Fairgrounds from 4-9 p.m. and are currently collecting silent auction donations. Donations are being taken for the Fulweiler Benefit Fund at Northwoods Bank
